Song of Worship Gladly Would I Leave Behind Me

Prayer

“Glory in Him as your Everlasting Portion, remembering that when all else shall take wings and flee away - when the home is broken up, and dear ones die, and means grow less, and health decays, yes, when everything on earth fails you - He will be your everlasting treasure, and your unchangeable Friend!”

George Everard, 1884

New Memberships

Due to COVID quarantine, the Bell Family was unable to be with us during our last Lord's Supper. Lord willing, we will receive Erin, Kaleb, Kenzie and Kaden into full covenant fellowship during the next Lord's Supper, which will be held December 6th.

Come, ye sinners, poor and needy,
weak and wounded, sick and sore;
Jesus ready stands to save you,
full of pity, love, and power.

I will arise and go to Jesus;
He will embrace me in His arms.
In the arms of my dear Savior,
Oh, there are ten thousand charms.

In 1757, after living a life he described as “carnal and spiritual wickedness, irreligious and profane,” Joseph Hart turned to Christ. Two years later, he wrote the famous hymn, Come, Ye Sinners. Now, having undergone numerous text and tune changes, it still remains a classic hymn of invitation to turn from our sinful ways by the grace of God into the waiting arms of our Savior. The added refrain harkens back to the story of the prodigal son, who, like Hart, turned from a life of waywardness and folly back to his father's waiting arms. The hymn is thus an invitation to bring our broken, humbled selves before Christ knowing that he waits for us, and, with the refrain, a response to that call, a declaration that by the grace of God, we will rise up and go to Jesus.
